01:12:29 Patricia White: maybe feminine passion is threatening to patriarchy
01:13:01 Marie Oberem: thank you Annie for your deeply self revelatory sharing
01:18:41 Patricia Herr: 🌿 Thank you for sharing this joy, passionate depth and abundance 🌸

01:27:30 Lori Amy: Annie, thank you so much for seamlessly weaving in, but with such honesty and a strength proudly grounded in vulnerability, the effects of childhood sexual abuse on women's sexuality. Brava, and so much gratitude 🙏🙏

01:35:41 Patricia Herr: Yes ... so good to remember that words are sacred gifts that may come from herat and our bodies as well – not just form the mind.

01:36:44 Patricia Herr: ...sorry – from the heart – I meant to write ...

01:43:54 Aset Ra: so true

01:44:07 Aset Ra: I agree

01:44:09 Hana Figueroa: Amazing... Thank you for bringing light into the deep realms of poetry, orality, rhythm and the creation process. Words, their unexpected light within, is indeed a beautiful gift.

01:44:56 Diane: Songs for the Tree of Life <https://youtu.be/lJrgCVWw-I>

01:45:01 Leticia Layson: From Sarah Poet – I am inspired by how Guadalupe and Annie have made love a personal choice, a way of being, a passion. I have struggled with the idea of exchanges in patriarchy – how when I have given love, it hasn't been honored. So to give wasn't enough for me, I wanted to receive more of it too. So I find myself wanting to ensure receiving. I am here in the space of learning about the gift to open beyond the limitations of exchange. How do these women continue to give love whether or not it is reciprocated? Thank you.

01:45:32 Aset Ra: so true Leticia

01:45:43 Aset Ra: it's not easy but we are all able to

01:46:41 Patricia White: As a grandmother, the words of my Mother come to me often: Giving is Receiving.

01:47:09 Aset Ra: yes

01:49:06 Aset Ra: beautiful

01:49:37 Hana Figueroa: Hermoso, Guadalupe. Create listening spaces, so magic can arise. Loving is listening.

01:51:45 Patricia White: the massive loss of children's confidence to be who they are is so heartbreaking; more patriarchal destruction of the soul

01:54:08 Dlyn Fairfax: where and when is this?

01:54:31 marta benavides: letecia --can you repeat the info on the gathering-- dates,, etc--gracias.. marta

01:54:48 Joan Marler: Oh yes, so much beauty, wisdom, and ancient knowledge. Thank you, thank you, thank you for reminding us of the poetry and beauty and love that lives in our hearts – uniting us with the living earth. Blessings all around.

01:58:11 Aset Ra: it is a gift and an experience

01:59:28 Aset Ra: true, I love many songs music is so healing

02:01:28 Joan Marler: Oh, dear Guadalupe, of course I remember you. What a blessing to see and hear you once again. How utterly perfect to hear you with Annie – so harmonious, clear, and deep.

02:01:36 Aset Ra: beautiful

02:02:57 Aset Ra: so true

02:03:18 Aset Ra: yes, it's all lost here

02:03:39 Aset Ra: they've taken advantage of that

02:04:59 Hana Figueroa: That is why we are energetically conformed as vessels, because as we receive, we conceive...

02:05:56 Aset Ra: true

02:06:03 Hana Figueroa: Our gift manifested in our sacred wombs

02:08:27 Aset Ra: it's all a gift ultimately

02:15:34 Aset Ra: yes, we're many things

02:15:37 MaryClare Foecke: "For it is in giving that we receive" is a central line in the Peace Prayer of Francis of Assisi, also known for "Canticle to the Creatures" (which reads like a love song!). I find it delicious to ponder the the 13th century partnership of Francis and Clare of Assisi, who challenged the misogynistic and capitalist excesses of the Catholic Church, trying to call us all back to the Maternal Gift Economy! :)

02:15:52 Patricia White: SHE has 8 arms .... in many many cultures
